

Tillamook Libraries to hold Open Houses

The Tillamook Libraries are planning for the future, and we need your help. We will be holding an open house at every library branch to gain feedback on how the library can best prepare for the next 10-20 years.

Each open house will include a presentation on current library trends, as well as database and e-reader demonstrations. You'll have a chance to ask questions and give feedback. Whether you use the library all the time or don't come very often, we want to hear from you. We will serve refreshments, and all are welcome at this free event. Please see the sidebar for the date of the event nearest you.

Highlighting new books worth reading

Five days at Memorial: life and death in a storm-ravaged hospital by Sheri Fink

This book chronicles the worst days at a hospital in post-Katrina New Orleans. Meticulously researched and well written, the author describes the crisis, including the eventual indictments for murder. She invites us all to ask how we might behave in the same situation while considering what it is to be human.
