Author Visit with Stephen Bramucci at the North Tillamook Manzanita Branch Library

Monday,
October 9th
4:00 pm

Stephen Bramucci shares his new eco-adventure, RACE FOR THE RUBY TURTLE, a story that explores the relationship between humans and the natural world. It's also a book that reflects Stephen's personal journey; it's about a boy learning to accept, live with, and even benefit from the unique way his brain works. At the center of the story is Jake, a boy who is not only trying to save a turtle but is also struggling with ADHD.

Author Stephen Bramucci Visits!

Join children's author Stephen Bramucci at the North Tillamook Library in Manzanita at 4:00pm today, Monday, October 9th!

Stephen will be sharing his new eco-adventure, "Race for the Ruby Turtle," a book that explores the relationship between humans and the natural world. It's also a book that reflects Stephen's personal journey; it's about a boy learning to accept, live with, and even benefit from the unique way his brain works.

The story follows "Jake Rizzi who is about to spend the summer at his great-aunt's cabin in the mossy, sodden Oregon backwoods. His parents seem to need a break from him and his ADHD. He tries not to take it personally, but isn't sure about his aunt's off-the-grid lifestyle and strange stories about a turtle with a ruby-colored shell. Soon, Jake learns that the turtle is more than a myth. And thanks to a viral article online, strangers from all over the world have arrived to search for it--including a sinister animal poacher and towering twin zoologists from Sweden. Jake is sure that finding the turtle will change how people see him and his "attention issues"--but he'll need help. Setting off with his new friend Mia, Jake must decide what matters more--personal glory? Or protecting the wonders of nature?" (book summary from Amazon.com).

Author Ryanne Pilgeram Visits!

Join sociologist and author Ryanne Pilgeram at the Tillamook Main Library at 1:00pm on Saturday, October 14th!

Ryanne will be discussing her book, Pushed Out: Contested Development and Rural Gentrification in the US West. Pushed Out is about: "What happens to rural communities when their traditional economic base collapses? When new money comes in, who gets left behind? Pushed Out offers a rich portrait of Dover, Idaho, whose transformation from "thriving timber mill town" to "economically depressed small town" to "trendy second-home location" over the past four decades embodies the story and challenges of many other rural communities. Sociologist Ryanne Pilgeram explores the structural forces driving rural gentrification and examines how social and environmental inequality are written onto these landscapes. Based on in-depth interviews and archival data, she grounds this highly readable ethnography in a long view of the region that takes account of geological history, settler colonialism, and histories of power and exploitation within capitalism. Pilgeram's analysis reveals the processes and mechanisms that make such communities vulnerable to gentrification and points the way to a radical justice that prioritizes the economic, social, and environmental sustainability necessary to restore these communities" (book summary from Amazon.com).
